Mornington Peninsula...

“Overall, what really impresses is the consistently high quality of the wines from Mornington. This, and the sense that you could go on exploring, constantly turning up surprises”...

“There is no doubt that Mornington has already arrived, establishing itself as a world class producer of elegant, complex yet eminently enjoyable Pinot Noir....but the most exciting thing ...is that many of the best wines will simply keep improving for some time to come...”

Andrew Catchpole (UK), Decanter June 2011.
